PREFACE.

THE Uſefulneſs of Books calculated for the Improvement of young People in the Arts of Writing and Drawing, are too evident to need being inſiſted upon —We ſhall therefore only beg leave in a very conciſe Manner to point out the particular Merits of the Work we here offer the Public.

FIRST, then, it is humbly propoſed as an Aſſiſtant to School-Maſters; for as the greateſt Part of theſe our Moral Copies were firſt wrote by that able and experienced Penman, Mr. William Chinnery Senior, and engraved from thence by an Artiſt very eminent in his Way; they will ſave ſuch Maſters the Trouble as well as Time of writing a Variety of Copies for their young Pupils with their own Hands.

AGAIN, this little Book will undoubtedly be found of infinite Advantage to ſuch Perſons, as either cannot write at all, or but very indifferently, and have no Opportunity of being inſtructed by any able Maſter; for here they will find not only all the Characters made uſe of in Printing; but thoſe, likewiſe, in all the Hands that are moſt uſeful, and moſt practiſed throughout Great-Britain in the Way of Trade and Buſineſs.

AND, that No One, who may be deſirous of Improvement in the two important Branches above mentioned, may want that Aid or Aſſiſtance, which this Attempt is ſo well calculated to afford them, the Editor has ſet ſo low a Price upon it, that it will fall within the Compaſs paſs of almoſt every one's Purchaſe:—And it muſt be acknowledged, by all who are Judges of the Expence of ſuch a Number of Plates, and thoſe, likewiſe, ſo well executed, that it is the very cheapeſt Book of the Kind that has ever hitherto been publiſhed.

As to our Ornamental, Emblematic Devices, which we have ventured to call our DRAWING-BOOK, and we hope with ſome Degree of Propriety, it has One Thing, if Nothing more, to recommend it; namely, that Not One Single Deſign ever appeared in public before; and we apprehend, that the Whole is exhibited in an accurate and workmanlike Manner:—Such, therefore, as it is, it is freely ſubmitted to the Cenſure or Approbation of the Public, by

Their Moſt Obedient Servant,

Thos. Bellamy
